

California Statewide Fire Summary

Saturday, September 20, 2014

Over 7,800 firefighters continue to battle 7 major wildfires burning in California. Overnight crews made progress on several fires including full containment on the destructive Boles Fire in Siskiyou County and the Silverado Fire in Orange County. Firefighters continue to mop up on several other fires with full containment expected this weekend for the Courtney Fire in Madera County, the June Fire in Mono County and the Meadow Fire in Yosemite National Park.

In Northern California gusty north winds could fan the active wildfires and will heighten the fire danger as conditions rapidly dry out. Gusts of 20-30 mph are likely. Firefighters are concerned on the King Fire that this may shift the direction of the fire pushing it back to the South. By Monday conditions should cool down though. In Southern California most areas should experience relatively cooler temperatures and higher humidity, which will help lower the fire risk.

This weekend CAL FIRE is asking residents to be extra careful in the outdoors in order to prevent sparking a wildfire. One less spark means one less wildfire. Learn more at www.ReadyForWildfire.org.
