

California Statewide Fire Summary

Monday, August 26, 2013

Nearly 9,000 local, state and federal firefighters are battling 11 major wildfires across California. Despite windy conditions across much of Northern California and the Sierra, firefighters did make progress yesterday on those fires. On Sunday, firefighters in Monterey County were able to contain the 4,500 acre Mission Fire at Fort Hunter Liggett, bringing the total number of large wildfires down from 12.

The Rim Fire, near Yosemite National Park, continues to be the most active and has grown to the 13^h largest fire in California's recorded history. 4,500 homes remain threatened by the blaze and several evacuation orders and advisories remain in effect. Winds again today will pose a challenge with gusts of 26 mph out of the south, pushing the fire further to the Northeast.

CAL FIRE is asking all Californians to take time to ensure that they, their families and their homes are Ready for Wildfire. Officials urge everyone to take a couple minutes and create a Wildfire Action Plan. To learn more visit ReadyForWildfire.org.
